

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A marking element for marking the function of a control element of an electric or electronic device with numbers or pictorial symbols. The marking element is composed 5 of a first section composed of a first film having a luminescent layer to be applied to a control area of the control element, and a number or pictorial symbol is provided on the first section.